Industry-wide Alert on Local Lettuce:

The salinas valley lettuce crops (Romaine, Petite Romaine, Iceberg, Butter, Red Leaf, Green Leaf, Sweet Gem) are all being affected the INSV virus that, while not dangerous to people, lowers crop yields, damages the appearance, and is causing prices to rise quickly due to limited availability.

This condition will continue thru the end of the local growing season in late October until we can move to the next growing area further south.

Please check with your sales reps regularly for updates. We will be doing everything we can to provide you with the highest quality alternatives.

Product News:

HOT CHILE HARVEST HAS BEGUN! Chocolate, Red and Lantern Habaneros, Carolina Reaper, Ghost Peppers, Scotch Bonnets and Scorpion varieties are now available from Comanche Creek. Sold by preorder in 2 or 4 oz clamshells.

>>>BERRY QUALITY has been affected by weather in both Salinas and the Pacific Northwest. Conventional Strawberries from Salinas Valley are limited through the end of this month and fruit is coming in soft and with short shelf life. Monterey area is our only immediate option for Strawberries as the fall crop from Santa Maria area isn't expected to start harvesting for at least another 2 weeks. For Conventional Blueberries, high temperatures in the Pacific Northwest have caused supply shortages and quality issues. We have had to reject some deliveries of Blueberries due to quality.

Brussels Sprouts: Cabrillo Farms, our local Half Moon Bay grower, has started up this week with local Brussels. First of the season supply is still limited for the next 2 weeks but quality is very nice.

Greens: County Line Farm's Organic Baby Arugula, Red Dragon, Red Frill & Rucola are still gapping. Organic Chards and Collard Green supplies are limited due to heat damage from both Lakeside and Coke Farms. Conventional Salinas grown Wild Arugula, Baby Lacinato, Spinach and Spring Mix supplies are steady. Conventionally grown Lacinato Kale supplies are currently from San Luis Obispo County as our local areas are having aphid issues.

Lettuces: Growers are reporting significant losses of lettuce crops due to the INSV Virus which is reducing crop yields and therefore reducing supply. Petite and Jumbo Romaine Heart supplies are limited and prices are up this week. Artisan Mix, Butter, Green Leaf, Red Leaf, Baby Iceberg, Iceberg, Sweet Gem and Romaine supplies all have tightened and prices are up across the board. Lakeside Organics 24ct Iceberg Lettuce and Romaine Heart supplies and prices are steady. Half Moon Bay grown OKU Living 12 count Bulk Butter Lettuce is available but limited. We are discontinuing the Pete's Bulk pack due to quality issues. We also have the OKU 12 ct individual clamshell Living Butter Lettuce pack in stock. Mache from Lakeville Farms is gapping for now until they can fix the short shelf life problem.

Melons: Specialty Melon season will wind down in September so get these delicious melons while they are still available. Full Belly Farm's Organic Goddess, Galia, Piel De Sapo & Toy Box Mixed Melons, and Orchid and Yellow Doll seeded Watermelon supplies are steady. Organic Charantais Melons are also in stock from Riverdog Farm. For conventional melons, California grown Seedless Watermelon supplies remain limited with prices on the high side due to very high demand. Watermelon supplies are tighter this year due to lack of irrigation in the Central Valley. Honeydew and Cantaloupe supplies and prices are steady but prices are on the high side

Potatoes: Russet Potato supply is improving but still limited as the harvests are just starting up in the Pacific Northwest; in stock now but limited are 40, 60, 70 and 90 ct sizes. Fingerling Potatoes are also starting up with new crop harvests underway. Amarosa and Banana Fingerlings are in stock, and French Fingerlings are expected to start by the end of August.

Product News:

Potatoes (cont.): California grown Purple A Size Potatoes are limited and expensive. Reds and Yukon Golds all have steady supplies but we are seeing some quality issues. Yams, and Sweet Potatoes, including Japanese Sweets, are all new crop, supply is still limited but the roots look very nice. Riverdog Farm's Organic Carola Potatoes are in stock with good supply. Carola variety is yellow fleshed with a russet like texture.

Wild Mushrooms: In stock, we have Lobster Mushrooms from Oregon and Imported Chanterelles from Bulgaria. Frozen Huitlacoche is also available, sold by the 2lb bag, product of Florida.

#8738 Goat Cabecou - Laura Chenel

Cabecou is a French soft goats milk cheese!

Both the cheese and oil are amazing spread and drizzled on toast, baguettes, salads, and as garnish for soups. The tasty marinade is a bonus dressing for your recipes.

Pair Thyme & Rosemary Marinated Goat Cheese with a sauvignon blanc, Jalapeño Chili with a syrah, and Black Truffle with an old Burgundy.

#6516 Feta Valbreso - France

Valbreso cheese is artfully crafted in the rugged plateaus surrounding the Mediterranean Sea in southern France.

A remarkably versatile fresh sheep milk cheese matured in brine, Valbreso cheese achieves its unique taste and superior richness by using 100% pure sheep milk coming from a very unique breed, the Lacaune sheep, renowned for its rich and creamy milk.
