PRODUCT NEWS

Beets:

Medium sized Red Beets are coming from Oregon now with steady supply, but the gold beets supply remains very limited due to poor quality; we have limited quantity on hand from Mexico, and the sizing is very inconsistent. Chioggia Beets supply is steady from Mexico.

Eggplant:

Supplies are very limited and prices up again this week as the high heat has damaged the desert and valley crops.

Figs:

Brown Turkey Fig season has started back up and expected to run until August. Black Mission figs are expected to start in 10 to 14 days out of Fresno; the season will run through Oct, weather permitting.

Pears:

Sacramento Valley grown Sunsprite Pears are in stock for the early week. Bartlett, Bosc and Red Pears are arriving early this week.

Stone Fruit:

The California season is not completely done, but the extreme heat did a lot of damage to the fields. Grade #1 fruit will be very limited and expensive, if available. Some utility grade fruit is available, but quality will not pass our receiving standards. Pacific Northwest Cherries are limited due to hot weather. Other Pacific Northwest Stone Fruit is expected to start sometime this week.

Tomatoes:

Heirloom Tomatoes suffered severe heat damage during the last two weeks and supplies are very limited. Organic Toy Box Cherry Tomatoes, Sungold, Sweet 100s, Caprese Mix, Early Girls and Cherry Tomato supplies are steady to start the week.
